2. INSTRUCTIONS AND NOTICE TO DESTOR

Renffirming a defit is a serious tinancial decision. The law requires you to take certain steps to make sure the decision is in your best interest. If these steps are not completed, the renffirmation agreement is not effective, even though you have signed it.

- I. Read the disclosures in this Part A carefully. Consider the decision to reaffirm curefully. Then, if you want to reaffirm, sign the reaffirmation agreement in Part B for you may use a separate agreement you and your creditor agree on).
- Complete and sign Part D and be sore you can afford to make the payments you are agreeing to make and have received a copy of the disclosure statement and a completed and signed reaffirmation agreement.
- If you were represented by an attorney during the negotiation of your reaffirmation agreement, the attorney must have signed the certification in Part C.
- 4. If you were not represented by an attorney during the negotiation of your reaffirmation agreement, you must have completed and signed Part E.
- 5. The original of this disclosure must be filed with the court by you or your creditor. If a separate restfirmation agreement (other than the one in Part B) has been signed, it must be attached.
- 6. If the creditor is not a Credit Union and you were represented by an attorney during the negotiation of your reaffirmation agreement, your reaffirmation agreement becomes effective upon filling with the court unless the reaffirmation is presumed to be an undue hardship as explained in Part D. If the creditor is a Credit Union and you were represented by an attorney during the negotiation of your reaffirmation agreement, your reaffirmation agreement becomes effective upon filling with the court.
- 7. If you were not represented by an attorney during the negotiation of your reaffirmation agreement, it will not be effective unless the court approves it. The court will dotify you and the creditor of the hearing on your reaffirmation agreement. You must attend this hearing in bankruptcy court where the judge will review your reaffirmation agreement. The bankruptcy court must approve your reaffirmation agreement as consistent with your best interests, except that no count approval is required if your reaffirmation agreement is for a consumer debt secured by a mortgage, deed of trust, security deed, or other lien on your real property, like your home.

YOUR RIGHT TO RESCIND (CANCEL) YOUR REAFFIRMATION AGREEMENT

You may resent teament your reaffirmation agreement at any time before the bankruptey court enters a discharge order, or before the expression of the 60-day period that begins on the date your reaffirmation agreement is filled with the court, whichever nevers later. To resent (cancel) your reaffirmation agreement, you must notify the creditor that your reaffirmation agreement is resented (or canceled).

Prequently Asked Questions:

What are your obligations if you reaffirm the debt? A reaffirmed debt remains your personal legal obligation. It is not discharged in your bankruptcy case. That means that if you default on your reaffirmed debt after your bankruptcy case is over, your creditor may be able to take your property or your wages. Otherwise, your obligations will be determined by the reaffirmation agreement which may have changed the terms of the original agreement. For example, if you are reaffirming an open end credit agreement, the creditor may be permitted by that agreement or applicable law to change the terms of that agreement in the future under

Are you required to enter into a reaffirmation agreement by any law? No, you are not required to reaffirm a debt by any law. Only agree to reaffirm a debt if it is in your best interest. Be sure you can afford the payments you agree to make.

What if your creditor has a security inferest or lieo? Your bankrupicy discharge does not eliminate any lieu on your property. A "lien" is often referred to as a security interest, doed of trust, mortgags or security deed. Even if you do not reaffirm and your personal liability on the debt is discharged, because of the lien your creditor may still have the right to take the security property if you do not pay the debt or default on it. If the lien is on an item of personal property that is exempt under your State's law or that the trustee has abandoned, you may be able to reddeen the item rather than reaffirm the debt. To redeem, you make a single payment to the creditor equal to the current value of the security property, as agreed by the parties or determined by the court.

NOTE: When this disclosure refers to what a treditor "may" do, it does not use the word "may" to give the creditor specific permission. The word "may" is used to tell you what might occur if the law permits the creditor to take the scion. If you have questions about your reaffirming a debt or what the law requires, consult with the attorney who helped you negotiate this agreement reaffirming a debt, if you don't have an attorney helping you, the judge will explain the effect of your reaffirming a debt when the hearing on the reaffirmation agreement is held.
